Letter from the Convention Director

On behalf of the owners of SCARAB, I sincerely appreciate your attendance at SCARAB 2022. This has been the most challenging environment ever to stage a gaming convention. The entire country has been trying to adapt to new and different ways of doing the things we love. We all have tried using Zoom, Roll d20, or apps to replace the experience of sharing games with friends or strangers. These were not an adequate substitute for the camaraderie and fellowship of playing games together.

There have been a lot of dark days for everyone since SCARAB 2020 and pandemic began. Almost every family has been touched with the death of loved ones and friends. There are faces that we are used to seeing every year at SCARAB that are now missing. You have our profound sympathy if you have lost love ones since we last saw you.

We also want to express our gratitude to Del Collins and Alisha Heaps for their contributions to SCARAB. They both had to step away from ownership, but SCARAB would not be strong enough to survive the pandemic without their prior efforts. Please express your appreciation if you see or talk with them.

Finally, I want to say thank you to the sponsors, vendors, dealers, partners, retailers, conventions, guests, customers, volunteers, game masters and everyone that has helped make SCARAB 2022 possible. It is not an exaggeration to say we are extremely happy to see you all again in person!

Now, let's play some games!

Some Events to Take Note Of

For a listing of full descriptions, Events, or to sign up visit our TTE site

Name	Description
Circle Tournament of Death	In this Ad&D 2nd edition game you are pitted one another in a last man standing battle royal. As long as participants follow the rules, they will be fully resurrected. You can cheat, but you better win!
Game Designers Workshop	In this workshop, each participant will receive some game components (provided by Print & Play Magic), and create a game from a basic concept with pointers and ideas to help continue the process. Creators will share ideas and pointers on prototyping, playtesting, and revising games.
Harry Potter Kids LARP	Congratulations! Your owl from Hogwarts has arrived! After being sorted into their Houses, Hogwarts students will learn spell-casting and other valuable magical knowledge. Then they will use what they have learned as once again they must defend their school and their friends from magical and mundane trouble.
RPG Pharaoh's Challenge	Do you have what it takes to be the RPG Pharaoh's GM? The Pharaoh's challenge must be met: The Game Master who shows their ability to prepare and run an RPG given certain constraints will win this awesome title, along with a few other goodies, for the year 2022.
SCARAB Cosplay Contest	Come show off your favorite alter ego, character, or simply just show off! We will have a prize basket for the best costume voted by your fellow attendees.
SCARAB Unpub Mini	Unpub Mini is an event designed to help unpublished games and their designers receive public play-tests and feedback. Players are asked to evaluate the games based on their tastes and provide constructive criticism in the form of verbal and written feedback.

Want to learn to play Dungeons & Dragons 5th edition?

Interested in learning about D&D Adventures League (Organized play)?

Only have a short time to play? Come join one of our On-demand games!

We can help people pick pre-generated characters or build their own, and as soon as we have enough folks we will start a short 1 or 2-hour adventure to get your feet wet. You can choose to continue your adventures then or come back later and jump in another one!
